

Spinal Cord Injury Research Seeking Participants: Workplace Microaggressions

Seeking adults with SCI to participate in a virtual focus group on workplace experiences.

We want to hear from you! Your input is important!

What is the goal of this project?

The goal of this study is to gather information on microaggression experiences, to better understand how they affect employment turnover, and to consider how personal strengths and values can help to cope with these experiences.

What are microaggressions?

Microaggressions are subtle, verbal or nonverbal, slights (that may be intentional or unintentional) towards individuals based on their membership to a specific group.

What will I be asked to do?

Participation in this study involves a 90-120 minute informal virtual focus group and a brief survey hosted by Illinois Institute of Technology

Who can participate?

To participate in the focus group, you must be

- (a) 18 years old or older
- (b) living with SCI
- (c) able to access reliable internet connection, and
- (d) employed part-time or full-time, OR had worked in the past two years.

What are the benefits?

Participants will be compensated for their time and effort.

Who should I contact... Next steps?

If you are interested in participating, please contact Eun-Jeong Lee, PhD at 312-567-3660 or by email at scimicroaggression@iit.edu

Scan our QR code or visit our website scimicroaggression.org to apply

